Monument

If there was a greater day to come,
call it judgement, call it fate
Moments of facing what we've done our past can't be undone

in the light of our demise when the final hour has come when we hesitate to claim for all of us

This is who we are
Forged by heaven and earth
Made of blood and bone

Our soul is divine
This is what we long for
This is what we dream

We'll never surrender
And never give in

We can't say we've not been warned
We can't deny we've seen the signs
Closing our eyes and turning away from how we've defined ourselves
How can we change our ways in time
Let this few word be our Maybe our righteous future is yet to come

This is who we are
Forged by heaven and earth
Made of blood and bone

Our soul is divine
This is what we long for
This is what we dream

We'll never surrender
And never give in

Horizon

You are the one who never changes
Who takes us under your wings
The one who keeps us sane
We have nothing that you need
We own nothing that you want
And still you're here with us

Now we're in doubt again
So lost in life again
Guide us through the storms
That rage within our hearts
We need light on the horizon
Shine your light on the horizon

You are the hand that feeds
Who'll never turns away from us
Like we're a part of you
We have nothing left to suffer
We can't see what lies beyond
We're stumbling in the dark

Now we're in doubt again
So lost in life again
Guide us through the storms
That rage within our hearts
We need light on the horizon
Shine your light on the horizon

Illusions

I close my eyes
I close my ears
And feel the rhythm of my heartbeats

I close my eyes
I close my ears
To feel my body breathing in and out

There is no hate
There is no love
For me to gain or to overcome

No thought remain
No love endures
Nobody at last, no souls to keep me here

There is no hate
There is no love
For me to gain or to overcome

No thought remain
No love endures
Nobody at last, no souls to keep me here

Inside Sanity

Today I stared through the window
My eyes met their reflection
Thoughts like falling leaves
Thoughts like pouring rain

Of all my thoughts I had imagined
Of all the ones I was so sure
My ideas so bright and pure
I left out the ones that were true

Of all my feelings I could access
Of all my emotions I could reach
All my words of wisdom
The ones I was able to preach

I need to know if all these thoughts and feelings
Reflect my true and deepest wishes
I'm looking for answer
Among these troubled thoughts
I need to clear my mind
From fear disguised as truth

Of all my thoughts I had imagined
Of all the ones I was so sure
My ideas so bright and pure
I left out the ones that were true

Of all my feelings I could access
Of all my emotions I could reach
All my words of wisdom
The ones I was able to preach

Shine

You walk the lines, stay on the path
So no one knows that you are Denying freedom and your choice
To become who you really are

Break free from everything you have
Let no one ever keep you down
Whatever feelings you may have
There's no point in looking back
Forget your fears that keep you here
Cut loose all weight that pulls you down
Because your soul has always known
You will shine between the stars

You close your eyes and turn away
From all turmoil in your life
Running from places you can't stay
Until you surrender someday

Break free from everything you have
Let no one ever keep you down
Whatever feelings you may have
There's no point in looking back
Forget your fears that keep you here
Cut loose all weight that pulls you down
Because your soul has always known
You will shine between the stars

You will shine between the stars
Shine between the stars
You will shine between the stars
Shine between the stars

Break free from everything you have
Let no one ever keep you down
Whatever feelings you may have
There's no point in looking back
Forget your fears that keep you here
Cut loose all weight that pulls you down
Because your soul has always known
You will shine between the stars

Stars

Break free from everything you have
Let no one ever keep you down
Whatever feelings you may have
There's no point in looking back
Forget your fears that keep you here
Cut loose all weight that pulls you down
Because your soul has always known
You will shine between the stars

You will shine between the stars
Shine between the stars
You will shine between the stars
Shine between the stars

Burn

Stuck again in motion
Emotions locked inside
Every ray of light is bend
By this all consuming fear

I know my spirit well
We have traveled this far
But now we have to part
It can't follow where I go

How long should I bleed
To wash away the fear
To start again and leave behind
Our leap of faith into the dark

How long should I burn
To cleanse me off my sins
To burn away the guilt and pain
My private hell I hold so dear

How long should I bleed
How long should I burn
Twist and enter

How long should I bleed
How long should I burn
Twist and enter

How long should I bleed
To wash away the fear
To start again and leave behind
Our leap of faith into the dark

How long should I burn
To cleanse me off my sins
To burn away the guilt and pain
My private hell I hold so dear

How long should I bleed
How long should I burn
Twist and enter

How long should I bleed
How long should I burn
Twist and enter...

The Story So Far

Omen

See the road rise before me
Feel the strong wind kiss my face
See the mountains move aside
As I am one of the human race

Feel the wind blow through your hair
On your knees in your despair
Have no trust in darkened minds
See yourself in a blaze of light
We are one, we go on

Come with me to a different world
No need for lies, no need to be
Reach out and follow me
We are one, we go on

Have no fear, we are strong
We're just here where we belong
Don't forsake when you are sore
As you and I can't be ignored

Sinner

I've no reason to complain
Nothing really, really hurts
Don't want to whine about these things
Incignificant and small

I've no reason to complain
I feel lonely, insecure
Don't want you to know how I feel
Don't look into my eyes

How do I feel is right no more
(Don't look into my eyes)
And blaming for what I've done
(Don't look into my eyes)
Forgiveness is what you gave (Insecure)
But it's redemption that I need
(Don't look into my eyes)
It's redemption that I need
(Don't look into my eyes)

I am lost in my mind
My wisdom's out of reach
I can't hear the guiding voices
Whispering close to me

I'm not good
I'm not bad
I'm everything in between
Like anybody else
Living for today

I don't want to feel this way no more
And bleeding for what I've done
Forgiveness is what you gave
But it's redemption that I need
It's redemption that I need

I have nothing left to lose
And still so much to gain
Waking up to the silence of truth
And silent I will remain

The Road Not Taken

This is my confession
Not to gain your trust again
Not to mend what I have broken
Trying to face myself again
Trying to face myself again
For all the years I hold so dear
For all the times I felt you near
For all the love I turned away
For all the times I went astray
For every love I loved too late
For every love that turned to hate
For every tear I did not show
I never wanted you to know

This is my tribulation depriving me from sleep at night
I can't deny I do lament
the road not taken
the road not taken
For all the years I hold so dear
For all the times I felt you near
For all the love I turned away
For all the times I went astray
For every love I loved too late
For every love that turned to hate
For every tear I did not show
I never wanted you to know

Journey

Now all is said and done you found me here
Many years have passed and brought you here
Beings of matter and soul is what we are
Bound in eternal lives our journey is done

Beings of matter and soul is what we are
Bound in eternal lives our journey is done

Our journey is done
