Alone

Every day you wake
And start complaining
Believing it would stay like this
Until the day you're ending

No one there to talk
No understanding
There is nothing left to do
No more use pretending

You are not the only one to hide
But you can not understand
Full of fear full of fear
You have nothing to decide
And you're trying to withstand
Every tear every tear

We were not meant to live alone
We build up cities to have homes
Improving means to stay in touch
Which do not seem to help that much

The more we think that we have grown
The more it proves that we're alone
Despite the people you call friends
The sun goes down and there it ends

It's every minute that you spend
Reflecting life is just for rent
Regardless if you fill it out
We shouldn't waste it without doubt

Waiting on your own
And count the hours
Nothing seems to cheer you up
You have no more powers
Asking what went wrong
With your illusions
You just want a place to be
A place without confusion

Moments (duett version) (feat. Endanger)

Every day I wonder
Every moment that I pray

Not today, not today
Will make this happen

Longing for conclusions
Longing for a perfect way

Not today, not today
Will make that happen

Hoping for an answer
Hoping for a sign that shines

Not today, not today
Is where it happens

Giving absolution
With a simple touching hand

Not today, not today
As all this happens

Holding on to reason
Right before you go insane

Not today, not today
Is where that happens

Losing all you asked for
Losing faith in what they say

That's today
It's today where that will happen

Where do we go, what will we know
The chance to lose with what we choose
In every moment lays the chance that it will happen

Decide to stay or go away,
It's up to you it's what you do

Moments (Addicted to Endanger) (feat. Endanger)

Every day I wonder
