Tilting at Windmills

No Salvation

Turn the tide, look around
There's a purpose in the sound
In the voice, be yourself
Put your feet on the ground

Choose your side, it's the right
Always sealed by your fate
Time is short, winding down
But it's never too late

Make a point, loud and clear
Show the world what you feel
Don't give up, never stop
Boy, it seems so unreal

Use your heart, use your mind
Get it into control
It's a curse, it's the loss
Of your body and soul

As gods we shaped the world around
We built it up and broke it down
Who's gonna to save us now?

From heaven above but not god sent
We walk the earth to bring the end
But there is no salvation.

There's a purpose in the sound
In the voice, be yourself
Put your feet on the ground

Choose your side, it's the right
Always sealed by your fate
Time is short, winding down
But it's never too late

Make a point, loud and clear
Show the world what you feel
Don't give up, never stop

Of your body and soul

We walk the earth to bring the end
But there is no salvation

But there is no salvation

As gods we shaped the world around
We built it up and broke it down
Who's gonna save us now?

From heaven above but not content
We walk the earth to bring the end
But there is no salvation

As gods we shaped the world around
We built it up and broke it down
Who's gonna save us now?

From heaven above but not god sent
We walk the earth to bring the end

Trial and Error

On days like this when all seems fine
And everything's gonna be alright
There's just one thing you have to discover
You reached the top keep climbing high
Up to the furthest point of sky
But blind ambition leads to nowhere

Who says this life is worth the price
When will you ever realize
What was wrong and what is right
You won't find the answer
It feels like time's not on your side
You can run but you can't hide
Now you need some good advice
But you won't find the answer

Time passes by and you are afraid
Everything seems lost and it's much too late
Maybe this life has nothing more to offer
You reached the goal but can't deny
You are not really satisfied
But in the end you must learn to suffer

Who says this life is worth the price
When will you ever realize
What was wrong and what is right
You won't find the answer
It feels like time's not on your side
You can run but you can't hide
Now you need some good advice
But you won't find the answer

Epiphany

All attempts to end this sorrow
Always tried and failed their way
Never put off till tomorrow
What you can do still today

As you walk along, you wonder
What to do to make things right?
Every time you ask, I answer
Try to get the balance right

Turn the light on for the showdown
Give me something pure in heart
Bring the night on before our time's gone
Show me how to leave a mark
Turn the light on for the showdown
Give me something pure in heart
Bring the night on before our time's gone
That's just what it's all about

All efforts to solve the problem
Always led to poor results
Never try to change somebody
Just because it fits your goals

Every mistake makes you stronger
Self-awareness paves your way
Look ahead into your future
See the light and praise the day!

Turn the light on for the showdown
Give me something pure in heart
Bring the night on before our time's gone
Show me how to leave a mark
Turn the light on for the showdown
Give me something pure in heart
Bring the night on before our time's gone
That's just what it's all about

Don't be ashamed of what you are
Just be yourself it's all that matters
Don't be afraid of who you are
But always walk ahead with pride...

Turn the light on for the showdown
Give me something pure in heart
Bring the night on before our time's gone
Show me how to leave a mark
Turn the light on for the showdown
Give me something pure in heart
Bring the night on before our time's gone
That's just what it's all about

Quicksand

I know that time is flying past
Like the flow of sand in an hourglass
I count the days there's much more to be done

The sirens call a last salute but I can't hear
A serpent caused the fall of man I don't believe
A trojan horse in front of me I just can't see
The smell of death is in the air but I can't breathe

Too much surrounded by the dark
Maybe sometimes we've gone too far
Now I stay here I've never felt so wrong

My body clock is ticking fast
Ashes to ashes and dust to dust
I close my eyes and wait for things to come

The sirens call a last salute but I can't hear
A serpent caused the fall of man I don't believe
A trojan horse in front of me I just can't see
The smell of death is in the air but I can't breathe

The sirens call a last salute but I can't hear
A serpent caused the fall of man I don't believe
A trojan horse in front of me I just can't see
The smell of death is in the air but I can't breathe

Beg Your Pardon

This is the day we've waited for so long
We wished upon a star that it might never come
So many times before we tried to get things done
Sometimes we argued about it but it wasn't fun

The brighter the sun the darker the shadows
It's too late to run the damage is done
How deep is our love how strong the emotions
It all depends on much more than it's sum

This is the time we have always tried
To cut and run
Since we had found each other
We still keep working on
So many years have passed
We had our lessons learned
Let's start all over again
We know where we belong

The brighter the sun the darker the shadows
It's too late to run the damage is done
How deep is our love how strong the emotions
It all depends on much more than it's sum

The brighter the sun the darker the shadows
It's too late to run the damage is done
How deep is our love how strong the emotions
It all depends on much more than it's sum

Game Over

You want to play
Let's start the game
Remember just one thing
Nothing stays the same

Observe the rules
First move is made
You should not hesitate
Before it seems too late

Before my eyes I've been betrayed
The deeds of selfish men I hate
King for a day fool for decades

Another tale another lie
I'm on the brink of breaking point
Stop making words up just to please
But promises are made to keep
Another turn another fail
I guess it's time to end this game
You've had the chance to proof me wrong
There's no excuse for more mistakes

You set the stone
Don't let it go
Maybe it's your last chance
Of course you'll never know

You attack
Your masterstroke
You'd better hurry up
No compromise allowed

Another tale another lie
I'm on the brink of breaking point
Stop making words up just to please
But promises are made to keep
Another turn another fail
I guess it's time to end this game
You've had the chance to proof me wrong
There's no excuse for more mistakes

Another tale another lie

Now or Never

You were not much surprised
As the rain began to fall
I didn't realize how the time
Has changed the past
We have come so far
We have sacrificed too much
But at the end of it all
It will only break our hearts

It wasn't me who meant forever
It's just the consequence of time
The only chance is now or never
Before it's time to wave goodbye

You were not pleased about
The situation went of course
I never asked myself do we really want it more?
We never got it right I would rather I had lost
But I don't care about
What's left if the curtain falls

It wasn't me who meant forever
It's just the consequence of time
The only chance is now or never
Before it's time to wave goodbye

It wasn't me who meant forever
It's just the consequence of time
The only chance is now or never
Before it's time to wave goodbye

Beacon Light

Steering Wheel

It's like the path you wander
Every step that you will take
Leads to even more confusion
There's no time to ponder
Every move that you will make
Slightly throws you off the track

It's a demand for equality
Are your intentions for real?
You've never told that you wanna be
The man behind the steering wheel

Life is more that you expect
Raise your head and don't regret
Listen what a wise man said
'Cause what you give is what you get
Life is more than just a word
It gives you much more in return
Poke not fire with a sword
Life's too short just live and learn

There's no need to wonder
Every moment you will fail
Keeps you trapped in an illusion
It's how you deal with anger
Every rule that you will break
Burns the bridge that you once built

It's a demand for equality
Are your intentions for real?
You've never told that you wanna be
The man behind the steering wheel

Life is more that you expect
Raise your head and don't regret
Listen what a wise man said
'Cause what you give is what you get
Life is more than just a word
It gives you much more in return
Poke not fire with a sword
Life's too short just live and learn

Life is more that you expect
Raise your head and don't regret

'Cause what you give is what you get

Stars

Every single candlelight
Sets a blaze if they burn together
Every day and every night
Standing side by side forever
Divided we will fall united we will stand
A revolution is at hand

If we were stars glowing in the sky
Illuminate the dark like a shining light
If we were sparks flying in the wind
Flashing in the night ignite the flame within

Every mistakes we have made
Show that we are only human Every fire which it takes
Gives us hope at least for a moment
For better or for worse
Together we shall spend our time until the end

If we were hearts beating in one chest
Pounding like a drum holding our hands
If we were words ending in a rhyme
Written in a book to stand the test of time

If we were stars glowing in the sky
Illuminate the dark like a shining light
If we were sparks flying in the wind
Flashing in the night ignite the flame within

If we were stars glowing in the sky
Illuminate the dark like a shining light
If we were sparks flying in the wind
Flashing in the night ignite the flame within
