Premonition

Embers

Another day, another stranger in my mind
These idle hands have left me high and dry

And now I'm living in a volatile illusion
I need to find solutions
A way to keep my demons at bay

The horizon's closing in
At the speed of sound I'm shedding my own skin
I've crossed the line far too many times
And I have broken boundaries to stay alive

And I've been waiting for the turn of the tide
To see things finalized
And I've come to this conclusion, this conclusion

Now I'm changing my direction
Breaking all connections
The redesign is systemwide

The horizon's closing in
At the speed of sound I'm shedding my own skin
I've crossed the line far too many times
And I have broken boundaries to stay alive

Memory Lanes

It's hard to find words
When everything's a game
Trust does not come easy
When no one's left to blame
Tension is increasing
Time is running out
When you can't find meaning
There is only doubt

Inside this carbon shell I render for the fire
We are who we are and I need to understand

You're trying to let go
To let your spirit roam
But underneath the surface
Your light faded grow
The onset of emotion
The fear setting in
What if there's no refuge from the ghost within

Inside this carbon shell I render for the fire
We are who we are and I need to understand
Walking round these memory lanes
Thinking of the brighter days
We are who we are but I don't know who I am

In the face of danger
Blood runs cold
But I'm no stranger
To the unknown

Inside this carbon shell I render for the fire
We are who we are and I need to understand
Walking round these memory lanes
We are who we are but I don't know who I am

Moving On

Restless souls
Always moving on
Never looking back
Listen to the pulse
The rhythm in our blood
I think we're getting closer

We've lived through it all
Holding our heads high
Dreaming of the fall
The dawn of a new day
The chance to set things straight
Fight for what we believe in

You thought that we would stay
Forever young at heart
Forever burning bright
I guess that we were innocent
But not innocent enough
And now we're getting tired

We've lived through it all
Holding our heads high
Dreaming of the fall
The dawn of a new day
The chance to set things straight
Fight for what we believe in

Dreaming of a fall
Dreaming of a fall

Distant Voices (feat. Karin My)

We were stranded on the cold and empty shoreline
We wandered off without a trail to follow
We tried to speak but our words were hollow
We tried to speak but our words were hollow
My reflection told me to listen
To the resonating sounds

And I call one final time
To see if I could understand
The music that was ringing
Loud and clear

We sank into the deepest ocean
We climbed over the highest peak
We tried to walk the distance
But I was walking alone
My heart was getting tired
But I was far from my home

And I call one final time
To see if I could understand
The music that was ringing
Loud and clear
To see if I could understand
The music that was ringing
In my ear

And I call one final time
To see if I could understand
The music that was ringing
In my ear
To see if I could understand
The music that was ringing
Loud and clear
To see if I could understand
In my ear

Renegade

I can feel a fire burning deep inside
Fueling my desire
My beacon of redemption
Like a glimmer in the night
But every time I close my eyes
I see my won damnation
Constant battles raging on

This time I'm on my own already
Rise and fall
When civilization crumbles
Heed my call
Alone I ride the time waves
Through it all
A solitary renegade soul

Don't wake me up if nothing's changed
I want to feel that I can breathe again
I'm ready to let go

I'll keep on dreaming of the end
Until the flames ignite
Until the stars align

Rise and fall
Through it all

This time I'm on my own already
Rise and fall
When civilization crumbles
Heed my call
Alone I ride the time waves
Through it all

Close to Home

I'm falling out of sleep at night
Thinking of these broken times
And how I want to see it through
But it's too close to home for you
And now we stand on frozen ground
Without the strength to move along
Your jaded heart is shifting waves
And I am drowning

I would carry
The weight on my shoulders
I would fight
Fight it like a soldier

You could have walked with me forever
You could have walked with me forever

So now the time is realigned
And every word has been defined
There's nothing left for me to say
I'm sorry it turned out this way, ok
And now we stand without a sound
Abandoned players in this game
I'm really trying to accept this change
But I am drowning

I would carry
The weight on my shoulders
I would fight

I would carry
The weight on my shoulders
I would fight

Pathfinder

You and I
Together we stand
On cold lights
Hand in hand
Like navigators in the dark

We're in a state of revival
Don't know if we will last
Fighting for survival
Running from the past

Close your eyes
Pathfinder
Free your mind
Pathfinder
Lead the way
Pathfinder
Into another day

The world is vast
Time is strange
Moving fast
We're the same
A dying breed of bygone age

We're in a state of revival
Don't know if we will last
Running from the past

Close your eyes
Pathfinder
Free your mind
Pathfinder
Lead the way
Pathfinder
Into another day

Close your eyes
Pathfinder
Free your mind
Pathfinder
Lead the way
Pathfinder
Into another day

Starburst

We're standing on the edge of the skyline
And I can't hear
The sound of your broken heart
Come hold my hand
Everything will be alright
Until the sun returns
We'll sit and watch the city lights

Shining bright
Like a shooting star
You're not alone
You're never alone

Come hold my hand
Everything will be alright
Until the sun returns
Come hold my hand
And we will run into the night
Until our worlds collide
We'll sit and watch the stars go by

Come hold my hand
Everything will be alright
Until the sun returns

Shades of Light

You'll never let your pride
It's falling down on me
Now I can't breathe
I can't see
Just my own thoughts surrounding me

I have tried to be a friend
But I'm stuck in self delusion
I want to make amends
Could have led to confusion

You're calling for action
And I am in denial
Hiding in plain sight
And I am in denial
Hunting shades of light

I'm just retracing steps
Unable to move on Reaching out to you
But I am too far gone

I have tried to be a friend
But I'm stuck in isolation
Would have led alienation

You're calling for action
And I am in denial
Hiding in plain sight
And I am in denial

Last Dance

Our distance theory brought us here
Now our world comes crashing down
I am feeding my own primal fear
Of this moment we are losing ground

And maybe we never really had a chance
You were always waiting for the last dance

Now the fire in your heart is out
And I don't know you anymore
I can feel you getting colder
But I am like a darkened star
Shining brighter than before
I can be your supernova

And maybe we never really had a chance
